The Tammany Hall delegates will leave for New York about a o'clock to-morrow afternoon, no matter what happens. It is not anticipated that anything will happen to interfere with the programme which contemplates winding the convention of 1916 in record time. Loud cries of protest against the violation by this convention of the time honored rule of keeping a convention in session four days are heard in St. Louis, but the cries are in vain, and it has remained for the Democratic Party to set a record of businesslike performance.

The convention was nearly an hour late in getting to work to-day. After the adoption of the reports of the committees on credentials and permanent organization the mountainous figure of Senator Ollie James of Kentucky loomed on the platform and as permanent chairman he began a characteristically vigorous and forceful speech. Senator James was at his best, for he realized that ex-Gov. Glynn set a fast pace in oratory vesterday.

It did not take the eloquent Kentuckian long to wake up an audience that packed the Collseum to the roof, There was a demonstration rivaling that of yesterday during Martin Glynn's speech

While the crowd was assembling the band played popular airs, including the anti-hyphen song, "Don't bite the hand that's feeding you," and a male quartet sang the chorus. The crowd liked it and cheered.

It was 11.46 when Temporary Chairman Glynn called the Convention to speech. He spoke slowly, seldom reorder. The delegates, still bubbling with enthusiasm from his speech of yesterday, gave him a rousing recep.

Archbishop John J. Glennon of St. Louis then offered prayer. The delegates joined with the Archbishop in the Lord's Prayer.

The Committee on Permanent Organization recommended Senator Ollie James of Kentucky as Chairman; J. Bruce Kremer of Montana Secretary: E. E. Britton of North Carolina Assoclate Secretary; John L. The band swung into "America" and the "Star Spangled Banner." Hats and flags went into the air. Somebody cried:

"Three cheers for Wilson."

The crowd roared the answer.

Stanchions were tern from the floor and a march of delegates through the half was started. The aigles became choked because the demonstration was begun without organized leader ship. The congestion aided in shortening the demonstration. The band played "The Hotel Time" as a marching tune while Senator James fanned his florid face. The demon-stration lasted eighteen minutes.

The Senator also replied to Republican criticism of the Administration's shipping bill, which, he declared, would have given the United States an adequate merchant marine by now had it not been killed at the last session of Congress by a Republican fili-
